MEDIUM Logo SERVICES Design

For Steinweiden Magic Retreats, a luxurious retreat hotel in the Black Forest in Germany, we developed a brand new logo. The logo is based on the flower of life symbol, an image that resonates with the values of the programs and atmosphere of the hotel.

Retreat hotel Steinweiden needed a brand new website, including a versatile online booking and payment system, integrated with the administration software of the hotel. A tailored solution was created using WordPress and WooCommerce as a starting point.

The design balances the beautiful photography of the location with an uncluttered booking experience. On the front page, the presentation offers a first impression of the hotel using background video and photography, while leaving ample space for products and news.

Raquel Rodriguez Puebla is an expert in the restoration of historic stucco in monuments. In addition, her company offers luxury custom wall finishes for projects in the highest market segment, where creativity, craftsmanship and quality are core values.

To reflect the creator's hand in the corporate identity, a logo was designed based on Raquel's artist signature. We chose a serif typeface in a classic style to connect with the historical context of the products. The use of earth tones and carefully selected typography enhances the sense of tradition and craftsmanship, reflecting the company's commitment to quality and heritage.

When creating the new website, the challenge was to emphasize the strengths of the company and the product, the unique look, craftsmanship, high quality and attention to detail, in both the design and the user experience.

A calm design was chosen that focuses on the photography of the different projects, but also gives enough attention to the carefully written texts. While building the website and writing the texts, much attention was given to the search engine optimization of the pages.

Communications Plan SERVICES Consulting

The foundation Wijkbedrijf Selwerd aims to help the residents of the Selwerd neighborhood to develop activities for the benefit of themselves and the neighborhood. Research in the neighborhood showed that the visibility of the Wijkbedrijf was not optimal. In addition, there was a need for an overarching communication strategy.

Based on the goals of the organization, an inventory of the situation in the neighborhood and available figures, a plan of action was made in which different target groups, means and quantifiable goals were defined. From this a concrete communication planning followed

The design of the new website for the Wijkbedrijf emphasizes accessibility and an inviting atmosphere. Photography of residents, volunteers and staff show the human face of the organization, and the (preliminary) texts invite people to contact them. Non-native-speaking neighborhood residents also have access to key information. The website is still in production.

A social channel campaign was created for the "Fruit and Vegetable" project of the Wijkbedrijf. The purpose was to draw attention to the project for 15 weeks with a weekly post on both channels, each time with a "fresh fruit or vegetable" photo and accompanying text providing a reference to the project's web page.

The project "Doe-Lokaal" of Wijkbedrijf Selwerd aims to attract volunteers from the neighborhood to repair broken items for neighborhood residents. A campaign was set up for this project with two goals. To recruit volunteers to help with repairs in the workshop and to persuade local residents to bring in their broken things for repair. Two series of three posts were designed with accompanying texts, a flyer and a web page.

Below are the posts aimed at recruiting volunteers in the neighborhood.

"Are you handy with a wrench and Phillips head? Then the Doe-lokaal could really use your help.

In the Doe-lokaal, volunteers refurbish old and broken things. This way, together we reduce waste and costs. Will you help too? Call, email or stop by!"

Restaurant De Duindoorn, part of the Wijkbedrijf Selwerd, wanted to improve its reputation in the neighborhood and better align its product offering with the needs of the neighborhood. To this end, a questionnaire was prepared in which the restaurant introduced itself and inquired about the expectations of neighborhood residents. The questionnaire was delivered to all addresses in the neighborhood. Those who returned the completed survey had a chance to win a free three-course dinner.

De Duindoorn did not have a defined house style. A new corporate identity was created based on the existing logo. Warm colors were chosen to reflect the friendly atmosphere of the restaurant and match the interior. Simple but unambiguous typography increases the recognizability of the restaurant. In order to firmly embed the corporate identity in the organization, a handbook was written, in which color usage, typography and other relevant matters are defined.

The Duindoorn is somewhat hidden, in a quiet corner of the neighborhood. To better direct visitors to the restaurant, billboards and flags were placed at strategic locations. The effect of these directional signs was immediately noticeable in the restaurant's turnover.

The restaurant is located near the famous Pieterpad hiking trail. A mention on the Pieterpad website and clear signposts from the route now regularly bring hikers to the restaurant.

Also within the restaurant, all printed items, such as menus, placemats, coupons, business cards and information boards were done in the new corporate identity.

To encourage neighborhood residents to come to the restaurant, The Duindoorn organizes regular activities and promotions. These are advertised through flyers, posters in the neighborhood and posts on social channels. Below is a selection of the posters and flyers created.

Following the changes to the corporate identity, the website naturally deserved a remake as well. The new website is restructured, extended, multilingual, suitable for mobile use and, using WordPress, easy to maintain by the restaurant staff.

Part of the design is a clear button at the top of the website that allows the visitor to contact the restaurant directly. On the mobile version of the website, this button is also prominently displayed. It was also ensured that important information, such as opening hours and the address, is readily available, while on small screens it does not take up the entire space. On the website, visitors are invited to leave a review on Google.

News about De Duindoorn and menu updates were regularly posted on the restaurant's social channels. These posts have a relatively large reach and are regularly liked and shared by area residents.

"Will you come to the Easter brunch at De Duindoorn on Friday, April 15?

The Easter Bunny has hidden eggs in the garden and on the terrace. Look for them all. Will you find the GOLDEN egg? Then you will win a nice prize!"

"Hooray!!! De Duindoorn has a new website!

As you've come to expect from our food, now our website has also been made fresh. You'll find our menu, the latest news and a big yellow button to reserve a table or ask a question.

When you're at home on your computer, or on your phone, we welcome you too. Stop by at https://www. restaurantduindoorn.nl

"Hooray!!! Our application to sell alcoholic beverages has been approved by the municipality.

From now on you can have a nice beer or glass of wine with us in the sun on our terrace. And in our dining room too, of course. Cheers!"

This portfolio is far from complete. Below are some of the clients we had the pleasure to work with.
